Who We Are

Since 1985, Habitat for Humanity of Greater Sacramento has been a trusted leader in addressing the region's affordable housing crisis—building and preserving affordable homes for low-income families, seniors, and Veterans across Sacramento and Yolo Counties.

Our mission is simple and powerful: To build homes, communities, and hope.

We are committed to breaking down barriers to homeownership, especially for those who have been historically underserved. Women, particularly women of color and single mothers, continue to face disproportionate challenges in accessing safe, stable, and affordable housing.

Through our programs, Habitat creates pathways to stability and self-reliance—empowering individuals, strengthening families, and building more resilient communities.

To see Women Build in action—and the real impact your support makes—take a moment to watch last year's recap video. You'll experience the energy, teamwork, and powerful stories of women and families building a path to homeownership.

What Makes Women Build Unique

Sponsoring Women Build is more than charitable giving; it's a strategic investment in community transformation. Your partnership directly expands access to affordable homeownership, helping families build strength, stability, and self-reliance while contributing to long-term neighborhood revitalization.

Women Build also offers a powerful platform for visibility and engagement. It gives your company the opportunity to align with Habitat's mission in a meaningful, hands-on way—empowering employees, strengthening team culture, and elevating your brand through purpose-driven impact.

As one of Habitat's signature events, Women Build brings together volunteers from across the community to work side-by-side with skilled professionals and future homeowners. Together, they don't just build homes; they help build brighter futures, stronger communities, and lasting change.
